

HEALTH ETHICS TRUST

ON-LINE EDUCATION

The Health Ethics Trust, a division of the Council of Ethical Organizations, is now offering the first of its on-line courses:

The Hotlines and Investigations Course

This course provides in-depth education on all aspects of hotline operation and conducting follow up investigations.

This course is worth one day (8 credits) towards CCP and CCE status.*

Our on-line offerings are not intended to be a simplified or condensed version of our in-person programs. They are intended to be full courses and to incorporate to the extent possible all of the features of these courses when given in-person.

*A participant may receive 4 credits (half day credit) by completing the course and passing the quiz at the end of the course. The quiz is "open book" in that you can review course materials any number of times before taking the quiz. A participant can receive 8 credits (one day) by completing the course and passing both the quiz and the essay exam.
